A NOTE FROM DR. NADERI

Before We Meet

Thank you for choosing to meet with me.

Your consultation is your time. Whether you are thinking about your nose, your eyes, fat grafting, a lift or a non-surgical treatment, bring every question and every concern, big or small. We will talk through all of them, at your pace.

First, I want to get to know you: who you are, what you do, where you are in life, what you love about your face and what you would like to change. I listen carefully, because that is how I tailor a plan to you and your life.

Then I will walk you through all of your options, surgical and non-surgical, so you can choose with confidence. Whatever you decide, my goal is a natural result: you, rested and refreshed, and still completely yourself.

We will also go through surgery and recovery step by step. Many patients leave with their minds at ease, finding surgery far more within reach than they ever imagined.

I look forward to meeting you.

Shervin Naderi, MD, FACS
